Prom the National Fra. Our Sinte.

BY JOHN J. WHITTIER.

The South Land has its fields of cane. The Prairie boasts its heavy grain, And surset's radient gates unfold On rising marts and sands of gold.

Rough, bleak and cold, our little State Is hard of soil, of limits straight; Her yellow sands are sands alone, mines are ice and stone

But on her rocks and on her ea And stormy hills the school-ha And what her rugged soil deni The harvest of the Mind suppl

Are free, strong minds, and hearts of hearts And more to her than gold or grain The cunning hand and cultured brain! For well she keeps her ancient stock— The stubborn strength of Pilgrim Rock;

And still maintains, with milder laws And clearer light, the Good Old Cause! Nor dreads the skeptic's puny hands,

Nor fears the blinded biggot's rule, While near her Church-spire stands a School

THE DYING MOTHER AND HER DYING

CHILD. " 'O: such is the kingdom of heaven,' were the sweet words of out blessed Redcemer, when inlants were brought to item by their parents for His blessing. They are beautiful words, as sweet and solthing as they are beautiful. W cannot tell how far down they sank into the deep of the mothers' hearts, purifying as they sank and sending the thoughts up to that bright world where only benultful things are garnered, and ever, because it grows forever like the love of many a mother's heart since then; how they have distribut unon a mother love like dew from the almosphere of hervor; and how that love has grown puter, and the faith stronger, and the hopes brighter, as the heaven-breather words have been uttered. I am not a mother; but as a lather I have felt how sweet these words were; and if to a father, how much more to a mother. And I have heard mothers to il how consoling they were; how, when they have clasped their infants to the r breast, and have felt their warm breath unon thost bosons, and have realized that the wooderful mach pery hidden away within that little form wooll never ron down, but go on run, parallel with the existence of God, they have felt the meaning of the words; and much more when they thought of heaven, and of the love of Josus, and of the blood that He shed, and the question. She would ever stand in awe of witness a scene of sorrow and suffering which of His burning love for our world, and of His him, and where there is fear in the heart, the e I cannot attempt to describe. blessing children when He was on earth. And I is but little love. have sat beside the mother, when long days of pain, and longer nights of restless suffering, have closed upon her little one, pailed in death, and closed upon her little one, pailed in death, and this was as generous and notice a chart to these dignitions. Here to these dignitions actor as could be found in the land. He was this confined apartment were three double beds. It is be clasped in prayer by her side, and that its little form will never again nestle in her bosom, berself down with toil, before her own cousin the place. I raised both the windows to allow with screams of pleasure and excitement, dent. One of the bulls, worried and flyquestions so deep and solemn as men may think, Brown at hand but every bucket was brought for the infant in a position in which the current of of all that is wild and backwoodsmanlike, fortable old gentlemen, deep in the shadhave I found out the secret well-spring of mean- kind hands, while she stood by, with words of girl so pup the water as dry as she could, I sought angel of comfort and good living. Being ang in these simple words, and have fancied that and in the secret well-spring of means and in these simple words, and have fancied that gentle kindness, and with smiles of sweet enly to enjoy, as all good Christians would, to be a little careful of their horse-flesh, or and dangerous—goring on every side.— Jesus filled them with His own divinity, that they couragement. But all this went home to her the odor of a roasted capon than the fumes battered into caution and chary of their Fortunately, it was the sunny person of might breathe into every parent's heart exhaustcousin's heart, and reused a thousand fiends was so still; suffering and sorrow had only lent bones, hang back. It may be that the ball the gallery, and he people were compara-

His presence. The hight-the light of immor- of them into their houses save a poor wretched tal mind that twinkled here, has caught a brigh- o'd hag, whose heart seemed to have been seartertint from the light of God, and if, ravished ed, and to have lost all traces of humanity. that the beautiful promise of Holy Win-He overpowering number, and driven from the place. shall gather them in His arms, and shall carry without a single opportunity of seeing his wife, them in His bosom,' is literally fulfilled in hea. or of removing her with him. He was ignorant soon as the little one touches the portals of hea. close was the watch upon his movements, that he wen, and thrills beneath the costacy that is exci- was not permitted even to approach the settleted by its new found bliss, it finds a resting place ment. Annie's child was born It was a fine in the bosom of Jesus, and is carried by Him, little daughter, but Annie herself was thought to and hears from His tips words of love such as it be dying. She had begged to see her husband:

she lived until she was a little over twenty-one | whose summit the surrounding country appeared | whose heart all of the woman seemed beaten out. she had attained her eighth year. She was the the neat and cultivated patch alongside; and and cared for by her paternal uncle, who, with opening occasionally amid groves of beautiful 283 education that their limited means would breaking in gentle ripples upon my path, washed first among all the pupils. Of all that village, cence on every hand, and hymning its great a mother?" so deep and pure a fount of joy within. It was ceasing prattle of whose we not to be wondered at that she should have ad- with the murmur that a nirers, and that, from all the country round, on the neighborin many lads should aspire to her heart and Land. harmony with the among these asperante was one who was nearly its ranty gave place to a demical to her. James Brown was her uncle's while the bliche music of con only son, and he seemed to think that he had for the first claim to her love, and at length, that no the ploughman, striking have in chorus, one else had any fight even to think of it. He meat back in softened tones by "the voice n vengeance upon any one hast of thy goolness prepared for the poor!"

rance, to the grid state ments, all whose el-orts for his instruction to the bred abortive; to his exterior, but the our his lip and the silon, and rendered him excesevely disperserable. Even towards Annie her self, he could not or would not bend from his imperiousness. He would assist her, indeed at imes, but the manner, the air, the look, the Yet so it was words, all indicated that he considered himself o be conferring a peculiar favor, for which the argest returns alone could compensate him. ormed, would have won that young and gentle heart, and it would have clung to him with all which she would not have shown him, for was he not the son of those who had taken and reared her when her own parents had died! But to love her turns of kindness. She might have brought and a young girl with a broom and bucket of any one I saw. I looked in vain, howevwould have belied her; but never was William access to the air, and placed both the current of with screams of pleasure and excitement, dent. One of the buils, wormed and five roasted built flesh. They were fat, comher, and her little chores were done up by h s air could not affect them. Then, bidding the now appeared before me as the ministering ows of their shovel-hats, and, if the outer and as she has sat beside the tiny codin, where malice of her cousin could possibly inflict. He stored away in her heart's memories many preall that was mortal of her little one reposed, and did not dare attempt open violence, but he was good truths, which now were her comfort, has been naif tempted to murmur a wish that it malicious and revengeful, and he lost no oppor- "Come unto me, all ve that are weary and had been spared I have seen the mother's eye tunity to show how deep was his hatred for those heavy laden, and I will give you rest," she reraised to heaven, as if far away in its blue he was bound to love. In about eight months peated "Did He not speak that to mo?" Wasn't other charge, and probably a dangerous wo ship the Alcalde, the bull looked over, deaths she had seen a form of unearthly bright, after their marriage they sailed for America, and it for me-and such as me? Oh! it's a precious depths she had seen a form of unearthly bright after their marriage they sailed for America, and it for me—and such as much ascenished, ness, and had seen a found their way into an Irish settlement upon promise." I spoke to her of Jesus—His willing after their marriage they sailed for America, and it for me—and such as much ascenished, promise." I spoke to her of Jesus—His willing after their marriage they sailed for America, and it for me—and such as much ascenished, promise." I spoke to her of Jesus—His willing. there is no more sickness, and where sorrow and sighing shall be done away forever, and it parish. This settlement could hardly be said to parish. This settlement could hardly be said to commanded the highest prices. In the ball soon recovered a commanded the highest prices. In the ball soon recovered. Some of them caught up there is no more sickness, and where sorrow the distant outskirts of what was properly my ness-His power, and His love, and expressed a they have hit upon a more original expedition of the distant outskirts of what was properly my ness-His power, and His love, and expressed a they have hit upon a more original expedition of the distant outskirts of what was properly my ness-His power, and His love, and expressed a they have hit upon a more original expedition. has seemed to becker the nother to come and meet it there.

The meet it there, and support. I speke of her child—and all the processionally ministers and support. I speke of her child—and all the price of the paper, for every torn copy of the obnoxious print! Of course the period of the soldiery, and the protestants, and so were Annie Brown and her south to the paper, read it, and then protestants, and so were Annie Brown and her souther to be in my parish, though I occasionally ministers and support. I speke of her child—and all the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of them caught up the paper, for every torn copy of the 'obnoxious print'. Of course the period in the various offices of the church. They were all the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of them caught up the desterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of them caught up the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the paper, in the desterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the paper, in the price of the paper, and the period of the obnoxious print'. I speke of her child—and all the processionally ministers and support. I speke of her child—and all the price of the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the desterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the paper, in the processionally ministers and support. I speke of the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the processionally more than the processionally more than the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon recovered. Some of the paper, in the dexterous 'chulos' to keep the bull soon re infant. I have wept over the grave of an old husband. But the human demon who had will care for my babe. It was Jesus said, 'Suf man, whose spars of his went out with no pros. sworn by his Maker that he would haunt them fer the little children to come unto me, for of pect of its rekindling in heaven. I have wept even to the end of the earth, had reached this such is the kingdom of Heaven.' Dear Saviour! to the probable circulation of a paper so away from earthly pleasure—but not, as I fear, had awakened in the minds of his country people Hox sweet was the lesson I learned beside that industry for the poorer classes.—Athena. to eajoy the pleasures which are at God's right the most bitter dislike and hatred to those whom humble couch, and how memory calls them up, hand. But I never weep over the grave of an in- they would otherwise have received with open one by one, now when long years have passed with that halo, it has gone out to earth, it burns With this old wretch Annie found a place to lie all the brighter to heaven; and I always fancy down; but her husband was persecuted by an ven. I love to think so. I love to think that of the laws, and therefore had to submit; for so how sad it was that so much of sin, and sorrow, thera, and show them their eruelty, and how, years of age. Her mother died when she was in picturesque loveliness, exhibiting on one side only child, and in her orphanage was guarded on the other, across the stream, a noble mausion, his wife, was unto her as a parent. They spared fir which clothed the hills to their base; -now no pains to train her well, and to give her the taking me into the stream itself, whose waters allow; she went regularly to the village school, the feet of my steed, murmuring the while in none stood so high as Annie Brown; for mone Creator, taught to man a lesson of humble thank was fairer, none sweeter in temper, none more fulness he is too slow to learn. Again my road obliging, and nose whose merry laugh betokened | lay directly across the bridge of a mill, the neve was indignant that any one else should presume | God among the hills," and seemed to utter that d, and had more than cace beautiful saying of holy writ, "Thou, Oh God!

should press me to offer his hand to his benu- A short time brought me to the place of my destination. It was a wretched hovel, almost a worst in the settlement, though its situation as one of the most beautiful I had ever beheld. of the familgof Acaie, It was on the western bank of the river, within a few feet ofits edge. The bank here was nearly acquaintance with her uncle's level for a considerable distance along the martwo young men could not have gin of the stream, but a few hundred yards at district more different in back the rise became exceedingly abrupt, and their characters, at more entirely at variance terminated in rough and acraggy bluffs; while on with each other to their dispositions. The the opposite side the hills, ciothed in verdure, cousin of Annie was haughty and imperious. towered sloft in solemn grandeure, as if to guard the mind was not strong, and he had taken no that beautiful spot from the rough winds of winnains to improve it; he had grown up in igno- ter, and to diffuse over it the mildness and the rance, to the grid of the mannts, all wheat; el- toveliness of eternal spring. I felt sad at the toveliness of eternal spring. I felt sad at the thought of sin in such a spot, and that there could be cught "of kinduess as bitter as gall," imed the plenty which the lavish kindness of of heaven had thrown all around. How strange that, where God has done so much for man, man should do so little for his fellow-man; and that even bitter hatred should gall and fester the which only love and peace should dwe !.

When I entered the cottage-if such a bove served the name-the only person I saw, an eltrly female, directed me to a dilapidated stair-James Brown had found out a strange path to conduct him to a weman's heart. Words of a woon," but was so only by courtesy, telling indness, and deeds generously and sweetly per- we, in nawer to my inquiry, that the woman was very ill, and adding in a tone of such coid and heartless indifference that it grated harshly Him whose blood had redeemed them both. its tendrils, as the vine clings to the oak. As it on my cars, "Pity that she's not gone!," 1 was, his cousin would have done almost every ascende! the stairs, and had hardly reache! the opmost step, when I came in contact with an me prostrate. I staggered for a moment against the wall, until my laboring lungs could take in him as a woman would wish to love, was out of the noxious arr, and then entered the room to

The loft was apout fourteen feet square, with William Brown was a frequent visiter at her an attic ceiling, and was lighted by two small loss full ness, and awaken springs whose full gushings should be annot be gushing should be gushing should be gushing be gushings should be gushing by gushing be gushing by gushing be gushing be gushing by gushing be gushing by gushing be gushing by gushing by gushing by gushing by gushing gushing by gushing by gushing g instang through it is the ground displayed and the ground displayed dis their meaning. I have seen the tear drop start, indeed, but rest agon the eye fringe, as she has legin to ponder their meaning. I have seen the tear drop start, indeed, but rest agon the eye fringe, as she has begun to ponder the earth.

The hour came when William and Annie the start on the eye fringe, as she has begun to ponder the earth.

The hour came when William and Annie the start on the eye fringe, as she has begun to ponder the earth.

The hour came when William and Annie the start on the eye fringe, as she has begun to ponder the earth.

The hour came when William and Annie the start on the eye fringe, as she has on one side and soft on the other.—Calibratic and Ocean Trail

The hour came when William and Annie the start on the ground, goes backward the scampering and rushing, were will observe, upon the west from his foes. Up then there goes again the cry, 'Al toro! caballos al toro! obligating and they dropped their muskerry and rander. but only to endure all that the petty spleen and home the lesson of humble picty. She had

"Jesus is all my hope."

It was she in whose house poor Annie was then fessed their cruelty, and promised amendment this fiend in female shape exclaimed.

"Itso' no use, its o' no use; she can't live and she must die; and a few minutes more and It won't make much difference to her." "That may be, hard-hearted creature," I exclaimed, "but haven't you enough of a woman all living." "Would you treat your own daughter so? Maybe I wouldn't, maybe I wouldn't, replie al herself backward and

M. and came here to e mind my own busin aid one, apparently the youngest of all.

"Well, well," said Peggy, "so I did, and about your own business you'd better be going stead of putting your face where it isn't wanted She aint long to live, and we shant be troubled with her long."

I was about to reply to these unfeeling remarks, when a low moan from the dying woman checked me and drew me to her side.

She opened her eyes as I bent over ther, and uttered soothing words-words of consolation and hope. She tried to raise her head, murmur ed something indistincty, and her head falling back upon the pillow, she seemed to be dying. I took her babe from the adjoining bed, and beginning the baptismal service, asked the name of the child.

A low moan from the infant brought back the spirit of its mother for a moment to its decaying tenement; and, turning her full blue eyes upon me, she said in a low and scarcely audible tone, Call it Annie, sir-its my name-it was my other's name. She's dead-and I'm dyingdie-its home I'm going. Tell him to meet quite at your ease. ethere. Jesus-receive-" her voice faltered. her eyes closed, and the rest was uttered where no mortal could hear it, as her spirit was borne

I baptised the motherless babe, and as I laid down upon the bed its little eyes partly opened, a smile played over its beautful features, a slight constaine tremor ran along its frame, and might bow down together before the throne of

he was looking after the animals I sat by the fire engaged in the novel task of baking bread. The utensils were of the most imple and primitive kind, consisting of two sticks inclining over the bed of coals, one end thrust into the ground while the lough was twisted in a spiral form round the other. Under such circumstances all the epicurean in a man's nature is apt to awaken within him. I revisited in fancy

Journal -There is in Innsbriick a jourtear it for the handsome profit which it brings in that condition. We see no limit

OUR ATTACHMENT TO LIFE .- The young fant. I know they are called early away; I arms, and upon whom they would have lavished away. I knelt by her side, and breathedout my man, till thirty, never fiels practically that know that they leave a void in the parent's every kindness and attention. James Brown fervent prayer to him, who "the same yesterday, he is mortal; he knows it, indeed, and, if know that they leave a void in the parent's levery knows and attenuous values v prayer." I thought o'the troump's of christiani- home to himself any more than in a hot a mother's loss, but I cannot for her infant's The day came round. Annie was brought to by in her case, who, deprived of every earthly June day we can appropriate to our imagigain. The little one that was just beginning to the settlement very ill. She was on the eve of comfort, neglected by those who should be her nation the freezing days of December. unfold its beauties here, has dropped from its confinement, which occurred the day after her friends and treated with confompt by strangers. But now—shall I confess the truth!—I feel parent stem; but angels have borne it gently up parent stem; but angels have been borne it gently up parent stem; but angels h The girl, on her return, was followed by a and shortest periods like misers' farthings. number of the neighbors, the larger number of In proportion as the years both lessen and whom I knew very well: I knew that they shorten, I set more counts upon their periself come on purpose, took his hat off, too, fire-crackers, which explode and hiss on Meyerbeer. Eminence in both composing whom I knew very well. I knew that they were at hard-hearted naturally, and was perfectly sansfied that nething but the malice of could have induced the unkind treatment she had received at their hearts. I embraced the operation of the great wheel of time. I am not content to pass away like a weaver's shuttle.' Those metaphors solubly to point out the impropriety, the united in a weaver's shuttle.' Those metaphors solubly to point out the impropriety, the united in the course which the impropriety, the united in the course which the ide that smoothly bears hundred and his on the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment; where upon the troop dispersed, each to his appointed station. The 'picadores' were drawn the impropriety, the united in one of the course which the impropriety, the united in one of the course which the impropriety, the united in one of the course which the point out the impropriety, the united in one of the course which the point out the impropriety, the united in one of the course which the point out the impropriety, the united in one of the course which the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment; where the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and maddening him. The 'chulo's' business is to plant one 'banderilla' upon each as the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and maddening him. The 'chulo's business is to plant one 'banderilla' upon each as the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment; where the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment; where the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment; where the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment; where the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment; where the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment; where the poor brute as the barb enters, scorching and owned the soft impeachment, where the they had pursued towards her, and which, as I min life to eternity, and weep at the inevitate had pursued towards her, and which, as I min life to eternity, and weep at the inevitate had and silver. Under their and wins the bull's attention. The other, in England, the two are superficially control and wins the bull's attention. sail, they had never been known to pursue to sail, they had never been known to pursue to wards another of any other action who had come the green earth—the face of town and wards another of any other action who had come the unspeakable rural solitudes.

If with gold and silver, Under their buckskin pantaloons, they wore, upon the outside of the leg, from hip to ancle, stout behind. The bull, perceiving, turns on the unspeakable rural solitudes. never could have heard on camb. If I err, I am but one night, when he had succeeded in gerting in which we were assembled, and spoke to them and the sweet security of streets. I would sure I crr only in not fathoming the mighty depths of these beautiful truths.

It I err, I am sure I crr only in not fathoming the mighty depths of these beautiful truths.

It I err, I am ship had succeeded in gerting unnot ced into the house, the old hag roused the neighbors, and he was taken on the shoulders of the man and as ne charges with his instruments of the utter want of all composition, indeed, is a matter of very being merely long shafts, shod at one end torture where he will, and leaps, with won-difficult study, and it requires years of apa have a tale to tell, which I hope will prove not uninteresting—a tale of sadness and of sorrow, of parting and of reunion, of mother and row, of parting and of reunion, of mother and another follows, till her reunion and of reunion, of mother and another follows, till her reunion and reu child passing away from earth to meet in a brighter world. I am quite sure they are there, brighter world. I am quite sure they are there, and brighter world. I am quite sure they are there, and brighter world. I am quite sure they are there, and brighter world. I am quite sure they are there, and brighter world. I am quite sure they are there, and brighter world. I am quite sure they are there, and on them as one of their evan nation, and as now on them as one of their evan nation, and as now on them as one of their evan nation, and as now of acknowledged genius holds, in Germanics and discomposes me. My household The mother dad in faith on her Savior, and her little daughter did before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before it could know the meaning of the need of faith, and of course before the hard and their hospitality, and their most kind and affortaneous the need of faith their hospitality, and their most kind and affortaneous the need of faith their hospitality, and their most kind and affortaneous the need of faith their hospitality, and their most kind and affortaneous the need of faith, and of course before the organ of philoprogenitiveness, sprang to the torga pulse was smothered at its bidding.

It was Monday morning, and the sun shone out ter by a single appeal to their feelings to have a ghost laugh, or shake his gaunt sides.

The pulse was smothered at its bidding.

It was Monday morning, and the sun shone out ter by a single appeal to their feelings to have a ghost laugh, or shake his gaunt sides.

The pulse was smothered at its bidding.

The pulse was s

about three years old, and her father died when the white-washed cottege of the laborer, with lying. Soon as the others had, with team, con- The Amphitheatre-Spectators-Order of Cer emonial and Manner of the Fights. As we rode into Ronda on the morning we arrived, I met an Irish gentleman whom had seen at Malaga, and who had come the gay cloaks of the 'chulos' and rushes when the clock is ! up, with his wife, to spend the summer in the mountain air. He very kindly told me and leave him the red muslin. He turns his neck or should and by her industry and application soon stood gladness that it was permitted to minister benefithe bull-fights, and would be happy I should "La, sir, I've got 'leven childers, and they're join his party. Early, therefore, on the af- the sharp pricking of the herdsman's goad, and has hurt the luternoon of the 20th, we made our way into the pauses in the centre of the ring to make then, and there is a state the Plaza, full of expectation and excitement, as the reader may imagine, it being ed by the shouting of the populace, and from his nostrils, he fall almost blind with rage, he thunders at the The amphitheatre at Ronda is a large one, two stories high, and built of stone .-The galleries are covered by a roof of tiles, supported by stone columns; but all the rest is open to the sky. The distribution of the paris is very simple. First, is to the right, while with the bridle-hand. you hear the tinkling of the beils, and the arena, circular of course, surrounded by a barrier six feet high, of heavy planks inserted firmly into square stone columns. Outside the barrier, there is a 'corredor,' some six or eight feet wide, running the whole way round, and opening on the arena by four doors. There is a ledge upon the barrier, on the arena side, some two feet from the ground, on which the 'chulos' step, as they leap over when the battle is too hot for them. The 'corredor,' around its outer circle, has another barrier, considerably higher than the first, and from the top of that begins the lower tier of seats. These rise behind each other, at a moderate angle, and, being nearest to the fight, are favored as the choice resort of all the critics and the "fancy." The second tier has flings the rider forward, and tramples in his ried off, as I thought, dead-but, two day benches, like the first, which are frequented, chiefly, by the poorest classes, being cheaper than the range below. It has, beides, a few 'balcones,' for families and and little Annie will soon come. I don't fear parties, whence you can watch the sport off the bull to where another picador is toasted the Ingleses upon each occasion The doors which open from the arena to

to the 'corredor,' are placed at the cardinal

up to the Saviour's presence by the Angel of the leads out to the main street. Through it the men of war come streggling in, as the appointed hour draws nigh. They make their exit by the door-way opposite, which leads "behind the scenes." From this last direction the new horses and new 'picahastened to overtake its mother, that they dores' come out, when they are needed to toril, the bull-house, where the victim is in BREAD-BAKING IN THE PRAIRIE .-- While waiting. Directly over the 'toril' the Alcalde sits, surrounded by his fellow-councilmen, the municipal 'balcon' being radi. ant with red hangings. Above the Alcalde's and now ranging, in its dignity ar. func-

Mode of Suppressing A German tionaries comfortably in the shade. There moves his terried, perhaps already wounded his way up to the topmost bench, and then, nal called the Gazette, which, it seems, in the midst of many backslidings, refuses to have in vain launched the thunders of the us terribly, in spite of screens and curtains, one, for the 'picador' is in the midst of the and his worship, quite as much assemished, summons of the fight.

over the grave of the young who would not remember their Creator, and who were called member their Creator, and the creator of t a file of soldiers cleared the ring; the spec- proaches, for their part of the performance fate, to follow such an exploit! tators gathered to their seass; the soldiers has been ended. took the stations dedicated to their service; The 'banderille:os' come next upon the the shouts and screams, the jibes and jeers, stege. They are the same whom I have the inner tabernacle of harmony, and the people call them, the 'matadores' in front, toons of cut, colored paper. When the ance, "musicians." But there is almost as and all on foot. Behind were the [three signal is given, bundles of these are brought and shortest periods like misers' farthings.

In the count the probabilities of my duration, hand. They marched across, and taking in each hand. If the bull has been a cow. horse and driving it. Lizst, Vieuxiemps, off their hats to the Alcalde, asked his leave, and or a sluggard, the crowd cry, 'fuego! De Meyer, and other great players, it need to the Alcalde, asked his leave, and or a sluggard, the crowd cry, 'fuego! as is the form, to follow their disporting.— fuego! (fire! fire!) and they bring in 'ban hardly be said, are men of very different derillas,' to the barbs of which are fixed profession from Beethoven, Mozart, and with iron, and finished with a sort of spike derful agility, beyond the sweep of the huge plication to acquire that familiarity with the fire side conversations, and jests and irony:
do not these things go out with life? Can active men, they formed a gallant and atbusiness was argent. His business was simply —and it was smothered at its bidding.

It was Monday morning, and the sun shone out the sun s each distant about three lengths from his his own on hand, and then he keeps his cap tion in most of the capitals. - Willis's Ru-Too SMART TO LIVE LONG .- A teacher neighbor. The spear ('garrocha') was until he has saluted some balcon or gentle. ral Letters.

his back to the spectators. If so, the servant touches him with hat or stick, and at the sound of shouting he comes forth - Another Perhaps his head is at the very front, and thing grows will then the 'mozo' has just time to step into advanced in the his niche behind the door, pull it back over it, pointed care! him, and save his life. The bull sees, first, is glittering. at them. Their owners leap the barrier, only wounded-the notice of the 'picadores.' If he remembers haps it has passe horseman. They brace themselves to meet and then he falls without the him, with spear in rest, and steadied by the If he but falls and lingers, one they bring the horse round to the left, and comes in a team of mules decked gar save him and themselves. And certainly By turns they drag out the dead he it is a splendid show of courage, strength, the horses he has slain; a servant and skill, when the brave horseman who is with fresh dirt or saw-cust all the hirst attacked, turns the foe off successfully, the fray; the ring is cleared again; the second welcomes him with equal fortune, and the third has no worse luck!- trumpet sounds, and then, amid But when, as often happens, the desperate charge has been too much even for skill and nerve, and spite of lance and horse- slaughtering and being slaughtered. manship, the bull has gored the vitals of the beast, and, lifting him madly, with his re- builts each day. The first day, for der, tosses both against the earth or barrier; horses fell-eighteen the second or when, though well turned off at first, in picador was taken senseless from the stead of going on from 'picador' to 'pica- the first day, but he reappeared the secon dor, the bull attacks the rear of the poor and fought his bulls triumphantly. The horse, as he retreats-drags out his bowels; second day, our friend Piquito pan was ca fury upon both—the scene is frightful to an lafter, he rode back to Seville. The mat unfamiliar eye. Then it is the 'chulos' waiting to receive him. It may be that the fallen 'picador' stunned. Perhaps his iron sheathing prepoints of the compass. That to the north, vents him from getting himself rid of horse and saddle. Assistants gather to his aid neck when he sailied out, the colors of t then, while others cheat the bull away .- breeder,) and which is held the trouby. If Sometimes the 'picador' falls towards the the fox's brush. When the Alcalde deen barrier, and, catching at it as he tumbles, a death well stricken, he testifies his approlets his stirrups go, and with his strong arm bation by bestowing the carcass on the swings himself into the 'corredor,' while matador, who forthwith cuts an ear off with the bull wreaks his fury on the fallen his sword, and keeps it as a mark of propsupply death's ravages. The western door horse. Sometimes, rushing from 'picador' erty. The perquisite is worth much or lin to 'picador,' the bull prostrates all three, tie, according to the market value of bulland then the whole arens is alive with flut beef. After the 'matador' has slain his tering cloaks-the active 'chules' tolling beast, he draws his sword out from the the animal from side to side, up to the wound-wipes it upon his cloak-makes very barrier, which they leap over, some his bow to the Alcalde, and then to those times not more than half a foot before his whom he has toasted. They throw their station, is another box, likewise upholster- horns. The greater the slaughter of gifts down to him in a handkerchief. ed famously, where sit the royal and illus- horses and overthrow of riders, the louder chulo, his attendant, picks it up and hards is the shouting of the people, and the it to him, and thereupon he takes his leave instituted by Ferdinand and Isabella, for wilder their applause. Let the 'pica with majesty. the preservation of Castilian purity of blood, dors' fight shy for but a single moment- The first day was a strange one, from let there be a delay, the slightest, in the two accidents. The one was not a rate William Brown was a frequent visiter at her an antic coming, and was a frequent visiter at her an antic coming, and was a frequent visiter at her an antic coming, and was a frequent visiter at her an antic coming, and was a frequent visiter at her an antic coming of new noises to supply the home, and his was as generous and noble a chart windows, having four panes of glass each. In the far distant abodes of good fare, not in the House of Lords. Next to these digniplaces of the slain—and the fierce cry goes badly, and his sword striking a bone, flew which to render Annie assistance, and to show was iving. The floor was overed with water, but no other than the homely table of my be candid, that box was better filled than a moment left ungoaded, turns upon his the hand. It might have slain him, and it many a bucket from the well, and have worn water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy water, was busily engaged in an effort to punfy their poor carcasses, the very welkin rings cumustance was said to be without a prece-ment! always in the afternoon) to leave the func- lo! (force him!) The 'picador,' excited, Completely master of the field, he made were two boxes opposite, upon the sunny animal, up toward the bull, waving his deliberately stepping down, went quietly Down to the moment when the sport was trudes, and he is tardy at the charge. The faral thrust, and, falling like a stone, he to commence, the arena was full of people, Alcalde waves his handkerchief—the trum-(bromas y burlas) with which the sover- called the 'chulos,' and they take the for- science of music is studied here with a phimers made their entry by the eastern gate, These are wooden rods, some two feet long, large makes hule distinction between great just opposite the box of the Alcalde. First pointed with an iron barb. The rods them. composers and great players, all who are came the 'banderilleros,' or 'chulos,' as the selves are covered and bedecked with fes. devoted to music being, in common parlthat she wished me to baptize her new-born mfant ore she died, and that it was that so much of sin, and sorrow, quest that I should perform the service of the visitation of the sick. Of course I complied.

Not a moment was to be lost, and so lost the morning, started off at a brisk trot, and so be lost, and so lost the morning, started off at a brisk trot, and so be lost, and so lost the morning, started off at a brisk trot, and so lost the morning, started off at a brisk trot, and so lost the morning which decreases as being the morning which decreases as being the lost the to my inquiries, he gave the following particular.

The young woman's name was Annie Brown.

She was a native of the north of Ireland, where two or three miles, now leading up a hill from the companion for the scene of sorrow. In answer to my inquiries, he gave the following particular.

The young woman's name was Annie Brown.

She was a native of the north of Ireland, where two or three miles, now leading up a hill from the class, "what would you have been with. countenances how truly their own good sense with their bright cloaks trailing over.

If the deed is done. The executioner now was and flings himself before the class, "what would you have been with. out your good father and pious mother?"

If the class, "what would you have been with. out your good father and pious mother?"

If the class, "what would you have been with. out your good father and pious mother?"

If a give the following particular was speaking. They all all bit one—acknowlated was speaking. They all all bit one—acknowlated with their bright cloaks trailing over.

The Alcalde gives the signal; the trumplet was one there from latered to the class, "what would you have been with.

If the deed is done. The executioner now was and flings himself before was one their sin, and promised that she should be like their sin, and promised that she should be latered to the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, "what would you have been with.

If the class, what would have been with.

If the class, what would you have been with.

If the class, what would you have been with.

If the class, what would you have been with.

If the class, what would you have been with.

If

dores are once more in their pl ings of the more and more excite another bull comes out, to take hi In the fights at Ronda, there were dores' made rather bungling work of it.must come forward to the horseman's res- Only two first-rate blows were given-boil cue, and, with their trailing cloaks draw the second day. Unhappaly, the artis which made some inroads on our pure One of them seemed well pleased with ! reception, for he flung up to our box the ribbon, or divisa, which was on the ber

and corredor and inner barrier, alighting